FACED with a crisis in attempting to find money on which to operate this year's public schools the Hope School Board has called an executive meeting of representatives of local organizations Monday night at the city hall. Statements from the board apparently indicate there is enough money to operate the grammar grades, but the high school is threatened as a free institution.

Hope Bank Robber Held for Trial at This Term Escapes

June Brashear and Companion Unlock Cell at Prescott

COURT IN SESSION

Prisoner Escapes Saturday, With Court Convening Monday

June Brashear, 32, accused with Charles Chapman of having robbed the First National Bank here of $24,000 last February, was at large Monday after escaping from the Nevada county jail at Prescott late Saturday with another prisoner.

Brashear was to have gone to trial in Hempstead circuit court this month for his alleged part in the robbery, which officers charged was engineered by Chapman, who has eluded of.

Chapman Identified

CHALOTTE, N. C.—(P)—Police Monday said a third man who eluded them when they arrested two men here last week who had a sub-machine gun in their possession, had been identified as Charles Chapman, who is wanted on charges of bank robbery at Camden, Smackover and Hope, Ark.

The man who escaped was registered at a hotel at Hill Brook, of Columbia, S. C. Hotel attaches who were shown photographs of Chapman said he and Brock were the same man.

The two men arrested were identified as Art Austin, former resident of Memphis and one-time employee of George (Machine Gun) Kelly, and Horace McDonald.

ficers all over the state since he was released from the El Dorado jail three months ago on $6,000 bond. Chapman was held for a bank robbery at Smackover. He is also wanted for the recent holdup of a Camden bank.

The jailer at Prescott said the escape was made by use of a key, which he believed was manufactured by Otis Bean, Prescott youth awaiting trial on a burglary charge, who fled with Brashear.

Seized in Oklahoma

Brashear was first apprehended in Oklahoma, and questioned in connection with several South Arkansas bank robberies by Sheriff Grady Woolley of Union county. He was suspected in the Smackover robbery with Chapman, which netted the bandits approximately $6,000.

After attempts to identify him failed, the Union county sheriff turned authorities over to Hempstead county authorities for questioning in connection with the First National hold up. Sheriff John Wilson first attempted to place Brashear in Texas state jail for safe keeping, but later the move was made to the Nevada county jail. He had been held there for the past three or four months.

News dispatches from Charlotte, N. S., quoted a chief of detectives as saying Charles Chapman was the third man who escaped there after two companions had been held for possession of a machine-gun.

One of the men arrested was identified as Art Austin, described by police as a notorious criminal.

Held in North Carolina

The record reveals the detectives said, that Austin has been arrested 23 times on charges ranging from burglary to assault with intent to commit murder in a score of cities, including New Orleans, Little Rock, Ark., El Dorado, Ark., Tulsa, Okla., and Houston, Texas.

His companion, who said he was Horace McDonald has no listed crime record except a narrow in a charge of larceny at Springfield, Ill., in December, 1930.

One of the three actual bandits in the robbery here, Charles Williams, pleaded guilty in Hempstead circuit court last spring and was sentenced to five years in state prison.

Ask Civic Groups to Help Develop New School Plan

U. S. Emergency Aid Definitely Refused Hope High School

GRADES OPERATING

Elementary Students Attend Classes—High School Registering

Failing to obtain emergency federal aid, the Hope School Board has called an executive meeting of representatives of local civic organizations at the city hall Monday night to discuss means of carrying on the high school work for the term which opened here Monday morning.

Announcement of the meeting was made in a statement by Miss Beryl Henry, city superintendent, Monday noon, as follows:

"The Hope School board was notified last Saturday afternoon that the Federal Emergency Relief Commission would not modify its regulations to permit any school to participate in the use of federal funds for the operation of such, where the enrollment of the school was at least 25 per cent rural pupils.

"This information necessitates the rearrangement of plans for the operation of the high school.

"The board has asked the president of each organization of the city and the pastors of the churches to name representatives to meet with them Monday night in perfecting plans to operate same. Mayor Boyett has been asked to select two representatives from the city at large.

"Further announcement will be given Tuesday."

The grade schools of the city opened Monday morning, pupils having been furnished book-lists last Friday.

High school students, in both the senior and junior schools, are registering at the city hall Monday and the rest of the week—and all prospective students must be so registered before the close of the week, school authorities have announced.

World Series to Open on Tuesday

Hubbell Chosen as Starting Pitcher for New York Giants

NEW YORK.—(P)—The boom day custom of selling World Series tickets only in blocks covering three games went into the discard Sunday as the Washington Senators and the New York Giants met in the 1933 major league campaign and turned their full attention to the post season conflict starting in the Polo Grounds Tuesday.

Monday, the Senators sweep into the Polo Grounds for practice, the Giants follow them to the field, the carpenters put the pinal patches on the woodwork, the decorators string flags and bunting, and the common citizens dash frantically about looking for people who know where the good tickets are buried.

Bill Terry selected Hubbell, the National League's outstanding pitcher this season with 10 shutouts to his credit, as his starting hurler over a year ago. With Hubbell in there, and the Giants playing their usual inspired ball behind him, the gamblers rate the National League entry at even money against any pitcher or any team.

But once Hubbell has departed the scene, to return once more and perhaps twice, the wise men of the game swing to the Senators. In a nutshell the situation was summed up this way Sunday:

"Here are the Giants, admitting themselves, they're not the best team in their own league in which they don't rate among the first four either in hitting or fielding strength, playing a team that led the American League, a stronger circuit, both in team batting and fielding. How can the series?"

Cronin's star trio, Whitehill, Stewart and Crowder, along with the right handed Weaver, who is the choice to start the second game for Washington, parked themselves in the Brooklyn stands Sunday afternoon for another look at the Giants.

Barney Oldfield will attempt to establish a new world's record for tractor speed at the Indiana State Fair in September.

Bulletins

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—Responding to a request from Brooks Hays for delay in calling a special congressional election in the Fifth congressional district until his contest of the primary nomination of David D. Terry is determined, Governor Futrell Monday set the election date tentatively for December 19 or 20. The hearing on Hays' suit to impound the ballots in three counties where irregularities are alleged will be held Tuesday.

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Recovery Administrator Johnson Monday addressed to the United Mine Workers a request backed by "authority of the president of the United States" that they accept the settlement of the Pennsylvania mine controversy offered by the operators, and send the men back to work immediately.

A. F. of L. Seeking to Increase Roll

Expects to Run 4 Million Members Up to 100 Million

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Appealing for patience and faith in the new deal, President William Green told the American Federation of Labor at the start of its annual convention here Monday that unemployment would not be eliminated until the 30-hour week is established.

WASHINGTON.—(P)—William Green reported Sunday that the American Federation of Labor now has nearly 4 million members, said the next goal is 10 million, and predicted that the federation convention beginning Monday will order "an organizing campaign such as we have never known."

At the same time the A. F. of L.'s executive council in its annual survey warned that for the recovery program to succeed, existing NRA codes must be revised to assure "much greater reductions in work hours and very much higher standards of minimum wages."

The new membership figures, President Green of the federation said, were presented to offset any doubts that might have arisen from the council's statement showing an average of 2,126,796 paid up members in the last fiscal year, ended with August.

To the council's total, he said, there now could be added 100,000 exempt from dues, and the following who were not included because they had not paid per capita taxes by the end of August: 300,000 in newly formed federal unions, 500,000 in new international union locals, 450,000 new members in old international unions and 50,000 recruits in old federal unions.

Green, most of the delegates say, is almost certain of re-election now that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has turned down overtures that he seek election and instead will support Green.

Dikes to Protect Highway at Fulton

Commission to Construct Three Walls to Check Cave-Ins

LITTLE ROCK.—Construction of three permeable pile dikes on the left bank of Red river at Fulton is planned by the Arkansas Highway Commission.

One dike 400 feet long would be placed immediately downstream from the Missouri Pacific bridge, at an angle with the river bank; another 200 feet long would be placed approximately half way between the two bridges, also at an angle with the bank; and the third dike, 310 feet long would be placed approximately parallel to the top bank, adjacent to the left bank abutment of the highway bridge, to prevent further caving at that point.

The commission has applied to the United States engineers office at Vicksburg for permission to build the dikes; and plans may be examined there. Objections or suggestions should be made not later than October 7, it was announced.

STRIKES AT 1 A. M.

Californians Rush Out of Homes Early Monday Morning

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(P)—A short and sharp earthquake rocked southern California at 1:10 o'clock Monday morning.

It resulted in at least one death, injury to four persons, and light property damage.

The coroner's office reported that Mrs. Sophia Kanapow, 73, became hysterical after the shock and died of a heart attack.

So severe was the earthquake that thousands poured into the streets in their night clothing.

Only two buildings were reported seriously damaged here, where the quake centered.

Stribling Crippled in 'Cycle Accident

MACON, Ga.—(P)—W. L. (Young) Stribling's boxing career was ended Sunday when his left foot was cut off in a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile. Stribling also suffered a fractured pelvis and physicians said he had a "50-50" chance to live.

The accident occurred while the former heavyweight contender was en route from a golf course to a hospital to see his wife and their third baby—two weeks old.

Sheriff J. R. Hicks Jr., said R. V. Johnson, clerk for a loan company was driving the automobile. The officer said the accident was "unavoidable" and no charges would be made.

Stribling, to the world at large, was a clean young boxer who fought them all from the lowest to highest but never quite reached the top, but to his Macon friends he is a neighbor and boxer half-fellow-well-met. They know him as a boxer here but when "W. L." is at home the talk mostly is about the independent basketball team on which he was the star player or his activities in the Kiwanis Club.

They also know him as a daring flier who goes about his business in airplanes and is good enough to hold a transport pilot's license and a commission in the army Reserve Corps.

His boxing career began when he was in his teens and the accident Sunday ended it two months short of his 29th birthday. During that time he fought three world's champions. Recently he won a newspaper decision over Maxie Rosenbloom, the light heavyweight king, in Houston, Texas. It was his last fight.

Civil Suit Opens Hempstead Court

Jury Finds for Defendant in J. S. Mosier Vs. Cap Cannon

The first verdict in the October term of Hempstead circuit court was brought in at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in a civil suit by J. S. Mosier brought against Cap Cannon for damages as the result of an automobile accident. The verdict was in favor of the defendant, Cannon.

A number of other civil cases will face the court this week, with the criminal docket including four murder cases to get under way early next week.

Hempstead court was convened at 9 o'clock Monday morning with Circuit Judge Dexter Bush presiding, and Millard Alford, prosecuting attorney. After receiving instructions from Judge Bush, the grand jury went into session. A clerk at the courthouse said the grand jury would probably be in session both Monday and Tuesday.

Justice to All Will Be Legion's Slogan

The new four-point program of the American Legion.

Johnston Gives 4-Point Program for Chicago Meet

By LOUIS JOHNSON
National Commander of American Legion

Written Especially for NEA Service

A four-point program, of justice to the veteran and fairness to the government, will come before the American Legion's national convention at Chicago October 2-5 with the endorsement of 43 department conventions and every prospect of adoption.

This program is as follows:

1. That no war veteran disabled in the line of duty shall suffer any reduction of those benefits granted such veterans in the World War Veterans' Act, as in effect prior to March 20, 1933.

2. That hospitalization under federal government auspices shall be afforded war veterans not dishonorably discharged, who require hospital treatment and who are not reasonably able to pay for their own treatment.

3. That perpetuation of service connection for all veterans properly granted such connection under laws in existence prior to March 20, 1933, be recommended as an item of Legion policy.

4. That benefits provided for dependents of veterans as established in the World War Veterans' Act shall be resumed and maintained as the government's policy, and that in no event shall widows and dependent children of deceased war veterans be without government protection.

Shows Legion Reaction

These resolutions reflect reaction of the Legion to the policy adopted when the Economy Act was passed by Congress and became effective.

This policy was that the American Legion turned away from the signpost of selfishness which marked the road to discredit and went straight ahead on the road which led to justice for the war disabled and full public confidence.

These resolutions, among the 400 or more which will be considered by the national convention at Chicago, contain the approval of this program by each of the 43 department conventions so far reporting, with very few variations.

The program first was formulated at five area conferences which covered the United States and in which department officials participated. It then was presented at department conventions and it is safe to assume that approval of the few that have not yet reported will be given.

Saw Peril; Avoided It

The press generally, as shown by more than 300 editorials from large and small newspapers alike, has given approval to these proposals as the future legislative policy for disabled veterans. The elements of this program have been weighed on the basis of equal justice to truly disabled veterans and the government.

At the time the Economy Act was passed, the Legion opposed it. We foresaw justice and untold suffering to thousands of helpless men. We are not ashamed of that stand. We realized, however, that the majority of

Meet at Spring Hill

Legionnaires and former service men of Hempstead county are urged to attend the outpost meeting of this organization at Spring Hill Thursday night, October 5, by Dewey Hendrix, post commander.

"You who wore the uniform, you who served, you who took the oath of allegiance to the American Legion, you who support the ideals of American citizenship—I call you to the colors again."

"I ask your further and even greater efforts in our program of national recovery."

Applause rocked the stadium as the president spoke from the platform where in 1932 he made a dramatic appearance to accept the Democratic nomination.

Relief Program Outlined

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO CHICAGO.—(P)—Creation of a government non-profit corporation to buy and distribute the necessities of life to the unemployed this winter was announced Sunday night by President Roosevelt, as he traveled westward to Chicago to address the American Legion convention.

The gigantic relief corporation was organized with the purpose of providing food, clothing and fuel for the destitute and at the same time relieving glutted markets of their surpluses. The president seeks to readjust the economic paradox of want and need amidst a surplus of food and staples.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, was named by Mr. Roosevelt as chairman of the new corporation. He will work with Secretary Wallace and George Peek, the Agriculture Adjustment administrator in directing the huge program.

Mr. Roosevelt announced the relief corporation as he sped westward Sunday night on a suddenly decided trip to Chicago to address the Legion convention at its opening session Monday and to visit the Century of Progress.

To Probe Increase in Overall Prices

Public Hearing Will Be Accorded Accused Factory Heads

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The first action by the NRA against manufacturers accused of "skyrocketing" prices was announced Sunday by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, as he plunged anew into the quest for an agreement that would send striking Pennsylvania coal miners back to work.

Johnson also disclosed that October 9 had been set for the beginning of a nation-wide buying campaign to support employers who have increased wages and employment under the Blue Eagle.

The administrator said summonses are being prepared requiring manufacturers of overalls and other wearing apparel to answer, in public hearings, charges that they have boosted their prices from 100 to 200 per cent, with the explanation that he increased costs are due to the cotton textile code.

Deputy Administrator Arthur D. Whitehead will conduct the hearings, which will be based on scores of complaints from retailers. The date of the hearings has not been set.

Johnson called to Walter Reed hospital, where he is convalescing from a minor operation, spokesmen for mine workers in his attempt to get an agreement on steel-owned bituminous mines. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, who also has been ill, returned to the city for the conference.

Johnson was said in informed sources to have obtained a tentative accord late Saturday from Myron Taylor and Eugene Grace, heads of the United States and Bethlehem Steel Corporation. They departed later to lay this before the Iron and Steel Institute in New York.

The controversy, which has resulted in thousands of miners leaving their jobs on strike centers upon the demands for recognition of the United Mine Workers by the "captive" mines of the steel companies.

October 9 will mark the opening of the long-awaited "concerted co-operative effort by industry, trade and the NRA to convince the consuming public that 'now is the time to buy,'" the administration announced.

Kelly Returned to Oklahoma by Air

U. S. Agents Charter Plane—Trial Set for October 9

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Covered by machine guns, George Kelly, hulk-like ex-bootlegger, stumbled from a bi-motored air transport here Sunday to face trial on charges of participating in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping. "Hello gang," Kelly said as he followed a group of federal officers out of the large nine-passenger ship which brought him from Memphis. "Nice trip."

After Kelly and his slender wife, Kathryn, were taken in a motorcade of 10 cars from the Municipal airport to the brick Oklahoma county jail, Herbert K. Hyde, federal district attorney, said he would recommend filing of state armed robbery charges tomorrow against both Kelly and Albert Bates, the latter already convicted on federal kidnaping conspiracy charges. Oklahoma law provides a maximum penalty of death for robbery with firearms.

Two machine gun barrels were trained on Kelly, mother on the crowd of several hundred behind wire fences at the field.

Then his trimly clad wife jumped to the newly arriving, surrounded by the dozen federal men who made the flight from Memphis, where the Kelly's freedom ended in a police trap last week.

Both are under indictment for the kidnaping of the oil millionaire, for which seven persons were convicted in federal court here, and both, Prosecutor Hyde said, indicated their intention of standing trial beginning October 9 on the government's conspiracy indictment.

Visit Little Rock
LITTLE ROCK—"Machine Gun" Kelly spent a half hour in Little Rock Sunday. When he left, a picked squad of police put away a cartful of assorted weapons and heaved sighs of relief.

The new Curtis Condor carrying the two prisoners and half a dozen federal officers reached Municipal airport at 9:25 a. m. Few residents of Little Rock, if any, knew they were coming, for the federal officers kept their itinerary a secret.

But when, at 8 a. m., a squad of 10 plain clothes men, led by Chief of Detectives J. A. Pitcock and armed with machine guns, sawed-off shotguns and pistols, arrived at the airport, an excited murmur went through the small crowd of attendants and loungers.

"They're bringing Kelly through," the word went around.

JUSTICE TO ALL
The American people were in favor of that action by Congress. We recognized the fact that some veterans not entitled to compensation were on the lists.

We could have denounced the president and Congress for inflicting grave injustices on honest disabled veterans. We could have thrown every possible obstacle in the path of the government's efforts to end the depression and to restore prosperity and happiness in our country.

In short, like so many of the smaller veterans' organizations, we could have cut off the disabled veteran's nose in a vain attempt to spite the president's face. If we had followed that road, we would, for the first time in the history of the American Legion, have been of dis-service to country and veteran alike.

Faith Is Justified
Thank God, we did not follow that road! Instead, we called on members of each of our 10,760 posts to stand patriotically by the government in its hour of crisis. At the same time we asserted our right and our duty to expect the president to be fair and just in the regulations he was authorized to issue to replace the discarded World War Veterans' Act.

We expressed our faith that he would show compassion and mercy to all honestly disabled veterans—the men who suffered handicaps for life while defending their country. It is with confidence, therefore, that the Legion faces the future without apology. It is in better position to obtain the sympathy, compassion, and exact justice which the Legion requested of the government when the Economy Act became law. It is well to recall that a measure of this justice and compassion was extended by restoration of $96,000,000 in benefits when facts were presented to the president by the Legion after the first regulations were issued.

Foes Friendly Won
There is much to be done before complete justice can be accomplished. In its present position, the Legion, through its loyalty and sincere desire to deal fairly with the government in its attempts to obtain proper care for actual war sufferers will have the support of the right-thinking American citizen.

The Legion has won for itself the friendship of the press generally, which reflects the attitude of the public in general, and also has enlisted the active support of the American people for the truly deserving veteran. That the battle casualties and the dependents of veterans who are victims of active service are truly deserving cannot be questioned.

At the same time, the faith of the American people in the Legion, because of its loyal support to the government in time of emergency, will be helpful in obtaining sympathetic treatment for all disabled veterans, who have a right to expect it because of their honorable war service.

Recovery Comes First
Before complete justice can be accorded the disabled, our country first must emerge from economic chaos, as it is doing under the National Recovery Administration. To help the disabled we first must help America. Their interests are bound inseparably.

Consistent with our pledge to the government, and with our service in 1917 and 1918, the whole force of the Legion is engaged in this battle for national recovery, which we can and must win. The American Legion is 100 per cent enlisted. We must not approach another winter with millions of weary men, strapping our streets and millions of starving women and children waiting in vain.

We have put our shoulder to the wheel. We shall continue to make the sacrifices that are asked of us for the common good and get this country we all love back on a solid highway of reasonable prosperity for all.

Banana oil contains neither bananas nor oil; it is composed of equal parts of amyl acetate, acetone and benzine, with a little pyroxyline dissolved in it.

France Definitely Opposes Inflation

Minister of Finance Declares Franc Will Be Kept at Par

PARIS France—(AP)—Minister of Finance Georges Bonnet, in a speech Sunday at Perigueux, gave France the first official statement that the government has turned its back on inflation. "Categorical hostility to any inflation is the dominating sentiment of public opinion," he declared. "The government knows its duty and will not fail."

The finance minister said the government was preparing to attack the problems of its unbalanced budget and the cost of living, pointing out that the French people insisted upon protection of the franc.

Instead of drastic cuts which were expected, the figures were as large and in some cases larger than previous ones. The quota applicable to American cardboard was 68 per cent higher and those on gears, drills, taps and dyes were increased 1 times. Where United States quotas were raised those of Germany were correspondingly reduced.

The quotas were set for one month only instead of the customary three months period, the government evidently postponing action on the recent decision to use the quotas as means of bargaining for trade concessions. American quarters interpreted this as due to a desire to force as many advantages as possible before beginning to slice heavily.

If we adopt it's every code. And it won't be long if we sing the song "We're on the Recovery Road."

"All Hail," I say, to the NRA. To the General, and to the Chief; A united stand is their demand To find their own relief.

If we'll all be true to the eagle, blue. It will help the administration. And beyond a doubt it will bring us out Of this "depressing" Situation.

The NRA is the Roosevelt way To end this "depressing" Depression. Let's make a start to do our part By joining in rapid succession.

The result will be prosper-i-ty If we adopt it's every code. And it won't be long if we sing the song "We're on the Recovery Road."

"FLOATING POWER"

forced other manufacturers to rubber mountings . . . then to non-rigid Engine Suspension"

FLOATING POWER was a storm center. It was so different, people couldn't believe in it. Engineers attacked it. They couldn't adopt Floating Power engine mountings because they are patented.

Plymouth was the first low price car to mount the engine on rubber. The others followed, forced by public clamor for engine smoothness like Plymouth's. But rubber mountings were not enough!

Plymouth's smoothness is the product of Floating Power engine mountings which embody a new principle in engineering. Now, other low price cars mount their engines with a certain amount of freedom to rock. But it isn't Floating Power!

For, the Plymouth engine is suspended in balance—is mounted at but two points, one high in front and the other low at the rear. The engine rocks slightly on these mountings so that it dissipates its own power shock. The result is the smooth, vibrationless ride which startled the world and launched an important new trend!

No other low price car equals the riding qualities of the Plymouth. Let us demonstrate it to you!

about Cigarettes

Of all the ways in which tobacco is used the cigarette is the mildest form

YOU know, ever since the Indians found out the pleasure of smoking tobacco, there have been many ways of enjoying it.

But of all the ways in which tobacco is used, the cigarette is the mildest form.

Another thing—cigarettes are about the most convenient smoke. All you have to do is strike a match.

Everything that money can buy and everything that science knows about is used to make Chesterfields.

The right home-grown tobaccos—seasoned with just enough aromatic Turkish—are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way.

Then the cigarettes are made right—firm, well-filled, Chesterfield uses the right kind of pure cigarette paper.

There are other good cigarettes, of course, but Chesterfield is the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better. Chesterfields satisfy—we ask you to try them.
